

Ichiro Fujisaki
2013 Recipient of the Marshall Green Award

Citation

For your significant and sustained contribution to strengthening the relationship between the United States and Japan during your service as Ambassador to the United States from 2008 to 2012 and in senior positions in Japan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The Society pays special tribute to you for your active support of the many American organizations that are involved in educational, cultural, and people-to-people exchanges between our two countries. The Society also recognizes and extends its appreciation for your important and active leadership during the centennial celebration of Japan's gift of the cherry blossom trees to the United States in 2012, as well as the American response to the devastating earthquake and tsunami of March 11, 2011.

The Society welcomes your election as President of the America Japan Society in Tokyo and looks forward to your continued involvement and leadership in strengthening the ties between our two peoples.